Region Analysis

During 2002–2018, the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) accounted globally for 36.1 per cent of terrorist incidents, 49.3 per cent of terrorist-induced casualties, and 21.4 per cent of conflict deaths. There is a well-defined shift of terrorism from Latin America, Europe and Central Asia to MENA, South Asia, and sub-Saharan Africa after 1989. Democracy and civil conflicts are main drivers of MENA terrorism, followed by population. Regional peacekeeping can have an ameliorating effect on terrorism by limiting conflict.

MENA is plagued by three m..
